

Blueprints for Pangaea Summer High School Internship Competition Rules

Overview

As the global inequity in access to medical care, education, and supplies becomes increasingly clear, it is important each of us understands we can play a role in mitigating this issue. In an effort to educate the public regarding health and wellness, we ask that you create a video explaining a healthcare-related topic. Examples of such topics can include how vaccines work, preventative healthcare, and more. The entry should be between 1 and 3 minutes and uploaded to YouTube. The video can take any form including animations, a dramatic reconstruction, or a documentary. Please keep in mind that the goal of this video is to teach and explain complex material in an understandable manner and remember to have fun!

Who can enter?

Participants must be 16 years old as of June 1st, 2021.

Prize

The winner of the competition will be selected to be the 2021 Summer Intern at the Blueprints for Pangaea Headquarters located at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. All internship activities will be conducted virtually. Blueprints for Pangaea is a student-run 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization that reallocates excess, unused medical supplies from U.S. hospitals to areas in need overseas. Our mission is to minimize domestic inefficiency and mobilize accessible healthcare in emerging communities. With the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, it's become even more important for medical surplus recovery organizations like ours to assist in times of need.

To date, we have partnered with the Syrian American Medical Society (SAMS), the cabinet of the Prime Minister of Niger, Project C.U.R.E. and others to redistribute more than 85,000+ pounds of medical supplies valued at $4,000,000+ to foreign hospitals. Most recently, we donated $9,000 worth of supplies to Michigan Medicine and Beaumont and 700+ face shields to Southeast Michigan clinics to help with the COVID-19 response. We have been featured in Forbes, Bloomberg, and many other accredited publications. We are looking for individuals who are passionate about global health and aspire to evoke positive worldly change.

As a part-time Intern at the headquarters of Blueprints for Pangaea, located at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor will have the opportunity to spend 5 hours per week during the summer immersing themselves in the organization, as well as networking and mentorship opportunities. This is an excellent opportunity for high school students to make a tangible difference in diminishing medical resource inequality while preparing for a future driven by impact.

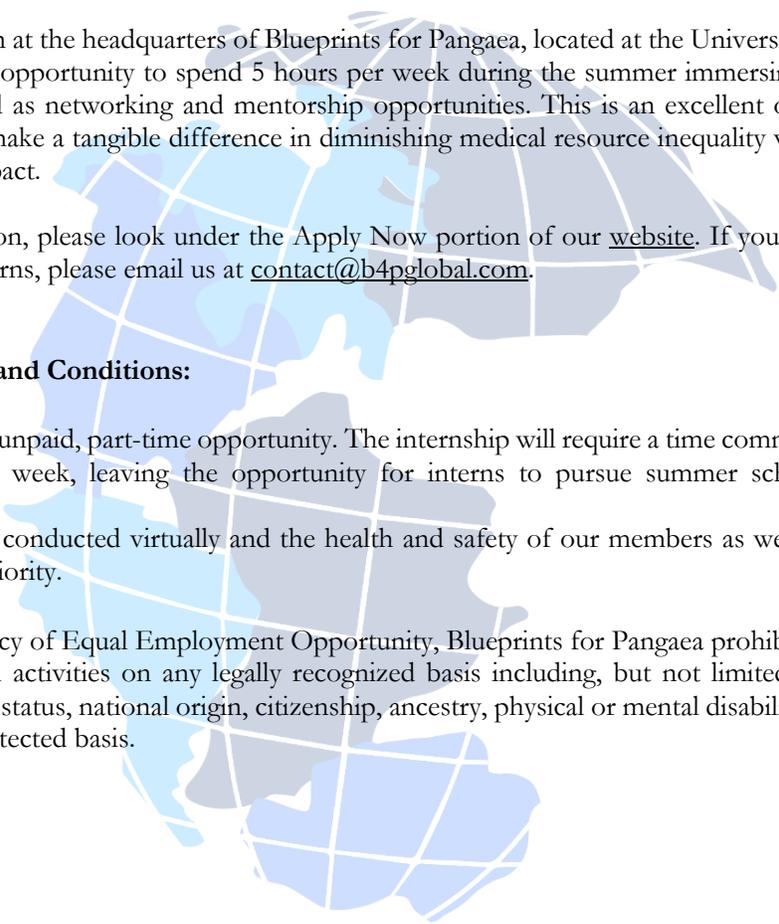

For more information, please look under the Apply Now portion of our website. If you have any questions, comments, or concerns, please email us at contact@b4pglobal.com.
